The Nomination of Vance--The Merrimon Bolt--Vance Again Brought Forward by Merrimon Men-Their Conduct in the Caucuses -Refutation of Charges Against Governor Vance-Voluntary Vindication. Edmund Jones in the Charlotte Observer. In the Rocky Mount Mail of May 31st, 1878, a copy of which I have only re ently seen, is what purports to be a true statement of the events connected with the Senatorial contest of 1872, written by the now editor of that paper printed in another column, and the and a Senator in the General Assembly at that time. There is so much contained in the statement to reflect upon Governor Vance and his supporters in connection with that contest, that I have, as one acquainted with the history of those times, thought it proper to correct some of the inaccuraces into which Mr. Avera has fallen, by writing what must in some sort be a reply. The impression is intended to be conveyed: 1st, That the nominating caucus was packed or pledged, and was thereby incompetent to make a choice binding upon the party.

2nd, That Gov. Vance and his friends acted in bad faith in allowing his name to come before the caucus a second time, having been previously withdrawn.

THE CAMPAIGN OF 1872.

As to the first charge, I invite the public to consider the circumstances under which that Legislature came into existence. The election in 1872 was one of the most exciting and hotly contested campaigns ever known in the history of the State. The Democratic national convention held at Baltimore had endorsed the Cincinnati nominees, and the party and nation were waiting honors. This devoted family has been in agony of suspense to ascertain how sorely stricken; these fond parents hav- far this wide departure from Demoing been time and again baptized in af- cratic principles and precedents would be endorsed by the great mass of voistion. This is the fourth of their no- (ters. North Carolina was the first hie boys who have met violent deaths, State to elect after this action at Baltiand this last sad event comes at a time more. The parties in the State were when old age was leaning hopefully and almost evenly matched, and any decided change either way, it was thought, would decide the contest for President. Our territory became the battle ground for the whole country. The struggule was made with all the might of the two great parties. The noise and fury of the battle held the people of the in the fearful charge on battery Sted- United States auxious and interested spectators, for the destinies of a great party and a great nation were to be decided. Long before the day of elecin command of the thirty seveth North | tion, national issues had completely set over the State House in Raleigh.

THE CAMPAIGN. Amid all this turmoil, the Legislagallant officers did not lay down their ture was elected, as a matter of course, lives with the army of Northern Vir- | without eliciting much interest on the part of the people. The question of the election of a United States Senator had not in the remotest degree entered into the campaign; and the members elect assembled in Raleigh free to act as they saw proper in the premises. They were not packed or pledged by the people, for the question had not entered into the campaign; nor will any one be so hardy as to allege that this member was chosen because he favored Vance, or that one because he preferred somebody else. Judge Mer-rimon was our candidate for Governor, and his name at this time had occurred to no one in this connection. They were not instructed, packed or pledged before the election. .

WHEN WERE THE MEMBERS ELECT

PACKED OR PLEDGED? If, then, they were so instructed, packed or pledged at all, and, for an assurance of the fact we have Mr. Avera's assertion, reiterated by Judge Merrimon in his recent card, it must have been done afterwards; if afterwards, by whom and how? Is it intended to be intimated that improper means were brought to bear upon the electors? Was bribery or intimidation resorted to? Mr. Avera nor any of Mr. Avera's allies dare make the assertion. How then was a body, freely chosen with out reference to the senatorship, wel-The people will not believe it of the man. In point of fact, the caucus which met to make the nomination call upon Mr. Avera to prove his asser-

Blackburn doubtless interchanged views as to the most proper man to elect, as is always the case. Was there anything improper in this? Gov. Vance, as an intelligent spectator, could not fail to know in what direction the preponderance of sentiment lay. But that he, or any one for him ever, at any time, or in any manner, used any unfair means to bias the judgment of the caucus, is utterly without proof or any foundation on which to rest. If any one was pledged it was the friends of Mr. Merrimon, and this seems proba-ble: for Mr. Avera himself admits that they were in consultation with him before the caucus met, and when he issued his call for the meeting in his room he other seveenteen Democrats at that Avera had not already made up his mind how he intended to vote, what business had he there? If instead of 18, 49 Democrats—enough to nomiresponse to the call of their chief, does any one suppose that they would have bolted from a caucus so constituted? or that the same denunciation against pledging and packing would have been much complained of against the friends, and see who it was that broke up that the same denunciation against pledging and packing would have been much complained of against the friends much complained of against the friends to place his resignation in their hands, to be offered whenthe information is known to all.

Avera declares that Judge Merrimon's friends took no lot or part—"the friends of Merrimon declining to participate, believing that they had done all they ought to do to effect harmony and protect the dignity and integrity of the party, they decided to have nothing to lo with the caucus," &c. Does Mr. Avera not know that nearly or quite all of Merrimon's friends were present in the caucus and that so far from not taking any part, one of his most en-thusiastic supporters—the then Senator from Haywood—insisted that it should take a majority of all the Democrats in the Legislature to nominate, and not a majority of those present? And does he not recollect that this was promptly conceded, in the hope that a bolt would thereby be prevented? And yet the Senator by whom the motion was made. was not one whit behind Mr. Avera in turning his back upon the declared choice of his party. Merrimon's friends took part in the caucus to this extent, and afterwards refused to support the nominee, although he was chosen upon the first ballot according to their own plan of voting. VANCE WITHDRAWS HIS NOMINATION. It is not necessary to follow the fruitless struggle that ensued in and out of the Legislature. In a word, neither party would yield and there was no election. Finally Governor Vance, not wishing longer to prevent an election, even if required to sacrifice himself, withdrew from the contest, and Merrimou's friends at once withdrew his name also. Scarcely had Vance retired, much against the will of his supporters, when some of the formeralies of Judge Mer. imon became alarmed at the storm of indignation poured upon them from all sides; and made overtures to Vance to allow his name to be again put forward; wishing, as they stated, as far as possible, to correct the mischief they had inaugurated. PERSISTENT EFFORTS OF THE MERRI-

MON MEN RENEW HIS NOMINATION. So persistent were they in this request and so earnestly were promises of support, sufficient to elect him, made, that many of Vance's friends urged him to yield to their wishes; but although constantly importuned he never gave them his assent. Acting upon this determination he prepared to return home, and, as an evidence of his sincerity, he remarked to me, when ready to step into the omnibus, that he felt 'like a boy who had drawn up a big fish only to see him slip off the hook and fall back into the water." Two or three of Merrimon's friends, upon being questioned as to how many of their former allies would now support Vance, replied that there were nine, and being desired to name them, did so; all of whom, so far as I recollect, were western men. I myself can now recall six whom I heard so express themselves. When Governor Vance left for home, Mr. Bryson, of Swain, and myself accompanied him to the depot. There Mr. Bryson, one of Mr. Merrimon's former supporters, again renewed his solicitations to Governor Vance to allow himself to be again nominated, repeating the statement that nine bolters now stood ready to support him. Governor Vance never gave his assent to Mr. Bryson, although his election now seemed certain. I desire here to say, in justice to Mr. Bryson, that I have no doubt of his perfect sincerity; for to my knowledge he had every reason to believe that eight others would join him. "MY NAME CANNOT AGAIN COME BEFORE

The last caucus ever held on the Senatorship was on the morning after the night upon which Governor Vance had gone home to was not pledged or packed at all; and I Charlotte; and the same day in which Judge Merrimon was elected. MERRIMON'S FRIENDS IN THE LAST

That caucus was presided over by Mr. Love, and the first thing done in it was the nomination of Governor Vance by Senator Cowles, seconded by Mr. Bryson, of Swain, both up to this time warm friends of Merrimon, npou which I promptly withdrew his name, stating that he had withdrawn in good faith and was no longer a candidate, and that I was authorized to act for him. The nomination, however, was insisted upon by these gentlemen, and of course Gov. Vance received the nomination again by an almost unanimous vote. Whereupon Mr. Love at once vacated the chair, and warmly gave in his adhesion to the nomination and excused himself for his previous action. The Legislature shortly after went into the election, when, with three exceptions, Love and all the nine gentlemen so earnestly desiring Governor Vance's response was prompt. If he and the re-nomination, returned to their first other seveenteen Democrats at that meeting were not pledged to Judge Merrimon, how did he know so well whom to summon? and unless Mr. Arrow had not already made up his Fourth, It was these same Merrimon men, now Vance men, who began and successfully carried through the fillibustering that resulted in breaking up the caucus called to nominate a third man.

DECLARED PURPOSE OF MERRIMON'S FRIENDS.

I have never, for one, charged the friends of Mr. Merrimon with intriguwell known at the time that the Radicals were caucussing almost daily upon the question of interference in the fight, and Judge Merrimou must have known that if they did interfere at all it must be in his favor. Let it be remembered that the whole object of Merrimon's friends was to defeat the party nominee. They made no secret of their intention at the time, alleging among other reasons for their action that a combination existed between Vance and another distinguished gentleman for their mutual benefit, and that it was their determination to break it up. They have thought it prudent to let this charge drift quietly out of sight, but it is none the less true for that, viz, that it was made and insisted upon at the time. If any further proof that the only object was to drive Vance out of the field is needed, it is furnished by Mr. Avera himself, He says: 'They (Merrimon's friends) expressed a willingness at all times to withdraw the name of Merrimon if the friends of Governor Vance withdrew his name." Futhermore, they could not hope to elect Merrimon without the aid of Radical votes, and this they say they did not expect or even hope for. So that all they could do by standing by Merrimon was to prevent Vance's election, and thus force, choice; and this they at the time never denied to be their object.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE FOR PARTY DIS-ORGANIZATION?

The parties to this deplorable strife must be judged by their records. Some one is responsible for the present state affairs, and it is for the party to say whether it is the great majority, acting under party rules and precedents, inside the organization, or the small misside the organization, or the small misside the organization, or the small misside the organization. nority in rebellion against its decrees. Before closing this paper I wish to notice a few charges made by Judge ent and took a part in the transactions of those "parlous times." the card recently published by him, upon which I may be able to throw some light. I, of course, do not intend a reply to Judge Merrimon; Governor Vance needs no defence at my hands: and besides the abuse countained in it there is little to reply to. THE CHARGES AGAINST GOVERNOR

VANCE. There are, however, three specific charges made against Governor Vance 1st. In regard to his action in not resigning promptly when he was refused admittance to the Senate after his elec tion in 1870. Just here it may be asked who it was expected would reap the benefit of Governor Vance's resignation? I only know that Judge Merrimon had been defeated by Gov. Vance for the position, and that he immediately became a candidate again as soon as Vance was out of the way, and would in all probability have been elected had he not been again defeated by General Ransom. I was a member of the Legislature from 1870 to 1874, and the facts THE CAUCUS UNLESS PLACED THERE BY in connection with this election in 1870. are as follows: Gov. Vance was elected by the Legislature in 1870 to represent North Carolina in the Senate of the United States. At the time of his election, he was banned by the fourteenth amendment. This was by no means the first instance of a gentleman under disabilities being chosen. Judge Manly and Governor Graham had both been elected under like circumstances, but no complaint was made until Governor Vance was put forward at a time when Judge Merrimon hoped to be chosen.

SENATOR VANCE AT ALL TIMES READY TO Some difficulty haulng then for the disabilities, Gov. Vance stated that he would resign in the event of his failing to be seated, at any time when called. upon by his friends. He had every reason to believe that he would be speedily admitted, and was accordingly nominated and elected. It was thought that a reasonable time ought to be allowed him for his admission. It is well known how slowly the Senate of the United States moves, and besides, some difficulty and delay usually at that time took place in the admission of nearly all Senators elect from the South, unless they happened to be of the same political stripe with a majority of the Senate. Months and even years have in some instances intervened between an election and ad-

THE MATTER IN THE HANDS OF THE DEMOCRATS OF THE LEGISLATURE. The Legislature remained in session upwards of four months after the election. and it was thought this was not too long a time to extend to Gov. Vance. Notwithstanding, however, certain opponents of his, in and out of the Legislature, long before the session came to a close began to clamor for his resigna-I desire now to go back to the caucus tion, and while the deneral Assembly nate—had assembled in that room in in which General Scales came so was still in session Governor Vance reheard? What kind of reasoning is of Governor Vance. The caucus was this? that if 18 men do a certain thing proceeding harmoniously to the nomination refused to entertain, and in retaliation it is all right and proper, but if 49 do nation of General Scales, when fillibus- for the attacks already begun upon body was in session only four months after he was elected: no long time, surely, to allow to him for the purpose of securing the seat from which Radical hatred excluded him.

IN THE LEGISLATURE OF 1871-'72. Upon the assembling of the Legislature next fall the clamor broke out afresh, and coming from the same quarter. On the second day of the session a former supporter of Judge Merrimon offered a resolution in the House (the first resolution introduced) calling upon Vance to resign. On the third day another friend of Judge Merrimon's introduced another resolution of similar import (see House journal, session '71 and '72 p. p. 244) The House did not, I think, give these gentlemen credit for disinterested patriotism, for it rebuked their indelicacy by a vote of 77 to 11.

As soon as the session (1871-72) opened Governor Vance placed his resignation in the hands of the Hon. H.

C. Jones, then Senator from Mecklenburg, and as soon as the attempts to drive Gov. Vance from the field were relaxed, it was presented to the General Assembly. Gov. Vance was at all times ing with the Republicans; but it was ready to resign upon the slightest intimation from those who nominated him, and to whom he was responsible, but we did not intend to have him driven out by his enemies, for Judge Merri-mon's benefit. The blame, if blame there be upon any one, must rest upon us who supported him, not upon him.

IMPEACHMENT FOR CONVENTION. The second charge is to the effect that Vance favored the proposition to abandon the impeachment of Gov. Holden in consideration of the Republicans, voting for the constitutional convention well know that many excellent Democrats at the time thought a convention would be cheaply purchased at even any price, and while I remember to have heard Governor Vance, in common with many others, express substantially that opinion, I at the same time know that he was an advocate of impeachment. At all events, as Judge Merrimon states, he proposition was spurned by the Legislature and Gov. Vance's warm friends were among the first to express their dissent.

VANCE IN THE CAMPAIGN OF 1872. Judge Merrimon complains that Vance did not aid him to the full extent of his power in his race for Governor n 1872. In this, I think he is mistaken. Vance spoke principally in the West with their small minority, the large where he was most popular, and where majority to abandon the man of their his speeches would do most to arouse party enthusiasm. As to who bore either his or Judge Merrimon's expenses is a matter of little importance, and one upon which the public are in no wise excited.

CONCLUSION.

I have written purely from memory correct in all essential particulars will Gambetta being asked if he was an adversary of the treaty and disapproved of the work of the Congress. said he could not be an absolute adversary of the treaty. Seeing that what-ever may be its defects it procured for Europe in general, and France in particular, the greatest boon to which we can aspire—peace. He and others may have thought ill of certain concessions of principle which appeared contrary to the rules on which the international law of Europe reposes, but from the first, he saw too clearly the difficulties of the undertaking to imagine that it would be accomplished in a perfectly

RIOT AT HOOKERTON.

A Democratic Negro Mobbed---He Slays Three Negro Assailants.

Correspondence of the News. KINSTON, July 24.

There was a riot yesterday at Hookerton, Green county, in which two negroes and one white man received wounds. Elijah Parrott, a prominent colored gentleman of Lenoir county, and a Democrat, was assaulted by a mob of negroes, and beat down almost lifeless, all on account of his political preferences. But before he was disabled he fired three shots, and brought in his game every time. He acted in self-defence solely, and had it not been for his white Democratic friends and the active part of Sheriff Dail he would have been murdered. There were over one hundred infuriated, beastly negroes, armed with clubs and knives, beating on him and his other Democratic colored friends, but they acted the part of brave men and fought nobly for principles, the right of free-thought and expression "Lige" has Congressional Convention.

A Convention of the Temocrats and Conservatives of the Fourth District, will be held in the city of Raleigh, on Thursday the 22nd day of August next, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress. Each county will be entitled to one vote for every one hundred votes and fractional part over fifty, given for Gov. Vance in 1876. By order of District Ex. Committee. .H. A. LONDON, Jr.

Chairman. The Democratic papers in the District wil please copy.

The history of the Senatorial contest, from the pen of Edmund Jones, of Caldwell county, is an able presentation of the facts involved in the contests of 1870 and 1872, and a masterly rindication of Governor Vance.

The colored people of Greene have not yet learned to respect the right of free thought and free action. They attempt the life of a colored fellow man because of his preference for the Democratic party. As usual they got the worst of the bargain at Hookerton,

James E. O'Hara, Chairman of the Board of Commissioners for Halifax county, has recently had said board to allow himself five hundred, and two other lawyers one thousand dollara each, total two thousand five hundred dollars, to defend the county in a suit for salt bonds, said bonds having long since been declared invalid by our Supreme Court in Leak vs. Commissioners of Richmond county. This is a last grab for the O'Hara.

The Independent Democrats in Pender have withdrawn their contest, and fallen into the regular line of battle. and, thus, they afford a splendid example for Independents everywhere. The struggle in Pender will be a hard one and the contest close, for the Radicals have re-united. They appear to have fallen out only to divide the Democracy, and then re-unite. Throughout the State they have laid many schemes during this campaign, and those Democrats who have declared themselves Independents have simply been playing into the hands of the Radicals. It is not yet too late to retrace the mistakan ep. After the election it will be.

Chairman Shaffer Justifies His Action.

The chairman of the township school committee seeks to justify his action in Blind, in which the three ladies named the discharge of a lady teacher in the graded school, and begins by saying :-"In the exercise of a plain statutory subject. They have decided to retain could better spare any other teacher therein employed.

"It the committee have exercised removing these ladies from their places.

greater caution upon any one matter than another connected with the school, it has been the preservation of the school from that bane of all public institutions, politics. They have steadily declined to employ persons who were otherwise worthy and well qualified, because they were either themselves leading or active politicians, or were the near relatives of such."

"The husband of this lady is an active, and esteems himself a leading politician Judges. The name of the Solicitor may be He was a candidate for office in the late added thereto, for the District to which he Republican County Convention, and was active in shaping the plan of the coming campaign. Failing of a nomination among his political friends, he nominated himself and accepted the sinews of war from his political adversaries. He is afflicted with a mental disorder, known among politicans as "sorehead," and in the aberration of his mind, he imagines he knows more of the wants of the people than they know themselves.

"It is not necessary to go farther than the editorial and miscellaneous news columns of your journal to prove that this is the lowest order of political jugglery, and the committee were of the opinion that such a character would reflect discredit upon a school employing a teacher from his family, however unexceptionable that teacher might

It is admitted then, that the lady was dismissed because her husband, Mr. McDonald, saw proper to run for the Senate in opposition to Mr. Bledsoe, who appears to be the adopted candidate of the Radicals, though he proclaims himself an Independent Democrat, for Chairman Shaffer in a letter to the News says :- "The committee were of the opinion that such a character would reflect discredit upon a school employing a teacher from his family, however unexceptionable that teacher might be." This is mere subterfuge, and but adds the crime of falsehood to disgendered cowardice. Mr. McDonald has always been in extreme antagonism to the Democratic party, which is the tax paying, school supporting element of North Carolina society. A blatant Union man during the war, he was in many respects an offensive member of the reconstruction convention of 1868. and of the Legislature of infamous memory that followed. At all times and under all circumstances, an undisguis: d Radical, he has talked politics to the point of odiousness, and held public place ever since the Republican party came into power in the State. He was just the same character when his wife was first employed in the school as now, and she the same excellent, estimable lady that she has always peer-of splendid birth, education and connections, one of the first in the land.

The other two committeemen publish a card in which they say, one, the colored member, was not consulted at all in relation to the matter, while the other simply gave a deferential assent to a proposition which appears to have been suddenly sprung upon him by the chairman, for no sooner bad he reflected on his action, than he called on the chairman to withdraw his assent, while the colored committeeman referred to, H. C. Jones, opposed the action from the moment he heard of it; and both say, if the withdrawal of the assent of Mr. Gilbert shall not be sufficient to reinstate the lady, then they both "stand ready to vote to continue ber as a teacher." So, therefore, "the committee were" not "of the opinion" which the charman attributes to them, but are of the contrary opinion, decidedly. The proceeding was not made a matter of record, even, which goes to prove that it was absolutely the arbitrary action of the chairman alone.

But he goes on, in justification of his action to say :"In 1868 a widow lady, with four helpless and fatherless children, was elected teacher in one of the public charitable institutions of this city. She performed her duty faithfully, in every respect. In January, 1871, a Democratic Board of Directors went into office, who evicted her instanter, without a day's notice, and turned her out upon the world, in violation of the contract under which she was employed. "In 1877, another Democratic Board came into power and found a young ady, the daughter of one of God's afflicted, teaching at a small salary. A "clean sweep" swept out this remnant of human sympathy and compassion-to be maintained by a father who never listened to the human voice por clothed in words a human thought. "There was a lady still left, on whom the board might exercise their authority; she was advanced in years-had been in service there for nineteen years, she had performed well her part, and there was no fault found against her in her official capacity, but-she was the mother of a REPUBLICAN, and a member of the board had a sister to be provided for, so when they failed to starve her out by the reduction of her salary by one half, they sent her adrift also.

"This last occurred at the Asylum for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind in this city, not six weeks ago."

These three references above are made to Mrs. Slater, Miss Nichols, daughter of a deaf mute, and to Mrs. Gorman, the old matron of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the were all employed. It is not believed that politics or political relations, whatever, had anything duty, the school committee have lately to do with the removals referred to, but been engaged in conference upon the if it is any satisfaction to Mr. Shaffer, it is the pleasure of the News to say, certain teachers-dispense with certain and it says it boldly, that if these ladies, teachers-and employ certain teachers, or either of them, were removed on ac-Among those whom the committee saw count of the politics of their or her fit not to employ, was a lady of male relatives, then every epithet, the highest character, whose services word and line of the News editorial rehave given entire satisfaction to the ferring to the conduct of Mr. Shaffer committee and to the best friends of applies with tenfold force to each and chool. She has been a teacher every member of the Board of Directors from its organization, and it is but just of the Institution for the Deaf and to say that in many respects the school Dumb and the Blind, and to every other person who had any connection with, part or parcel in the transactions

ALL DISFASES OF THE BLOOD—If Vegetine will relieve pain cleanse, purify, and cure such diseases, restoring the patient to perfect health after trying different physicians, many remedies, suffering for years, is it not conclusive proof, if you are a sufferer, you can be cured? Why is this medicine performing such great cures? It works in the blood, in the circulating fluid. It can truly be called the Great Blood Purifier. The great source of disease originates in the blood; and no medicine that does not act directly upon it, to purify and renovate, has any just claim upon public attention.

George H. Snow, Esq.

The illness of this gentleman continnes, preventing his appearance at Rolesville yesterday. He is at the residence of Dr. Hal. Harris, near Forestville. At last accounts his condition was somewhat improved. It is earnestly trusted that he may soon be able to take the field again against Radicals, Independents, etc.

Ball at the Atlantic.

Dr. Bagby, the enterprising proprietor of the Atlantic Hotel, Beaufort, N. C., has arranged with the managers of the Lee Monument fund to give a grand dress ball at his popular seaside resort on the 15th of August, in aid of the fund. Admission to gentlemen $1 each. It is expected that excursion rates will be obtained from all the railroads.

Fruits.

The fruit crop this year is not, taken altogether, such a success as was expected. Peaches are in fact quite inferior, the ravages of the curculio having damaged the trees greatly. Neither apples, prars or plums are so good as last year. Melons are abundaut, but are yet capable of improvement, and the season may develop them of superior size and flavor to the ones now shown. As a fruit year, 1877 will probably never be equaled.

Beaufort.

Dr. G. W. Blacknall, who has just returned from the seaside, reports that the hotels at Beaufort are filling fast with guests. The Atlantic enjoys a large share of the patronage, and the Ocean View has also a number of dwellers. The improvements about the hotels are numerous and add much to the pleasures of a stay at either. Raleigh is well represented, and her people there are taking in all the fun to be had.

The New Post Office.

The interior of this magnificent building grows daily more beautiful. The doors have been hung, and are of yellow pine, handsomely designed and highly polished. The metal work of the doors is bronze, and is substantial while elegant. The glazier's work is completed on the first floor. The iron pillars are now being painted a gray color. The number of visitors to the building, attracted by descriptions of it, is growing large. The discomforts of the present tiny office will soon be things of the

A Tall Story. A colored youth, Thomas Young by name, made an early visit to Devereux's meadows yesterday, taking with him his fowling piece. #### What we Drink.

No time can be more appropriate than the present to speak for the thou-sandth time upon the subject of city water-works. Often have the papers spoken, and truthfully too, of the imminent danger to the community that lies in the use of the water from the present wells. Poisoned by the drainage from a thousand privies, the turbid water is consumed by our people only because they have nothing else as a beverage. Can any man iu his senses for an instant favey that the use of this polluted water can fail to produce disease? It may act slowly, but does it posion the system less thoroughly or surely? In other matters of public comfort we apply to our benefit the costliest inventions, yet here, with the question of health or disease ever before us, not a hand is raised. Each spring the note of warning is sounded, that we may look for a summer full of sickness, that wells are in such a condition as to unfit their water for use, etc. Then the necessity for pure water and of the establishment of water works is suggested, while perhaps a tabular statement of the quality of the beverage now furnished is given, as ascertained by chem-cal analysis, and the purity of that to be had under the new system stated. But year after year slips by and tho policy of inaction prevails. Will there be no awakening till a pestilence sweeps over us, its seeds sown by the poisonous iquid in the wells?

The mere desire for improvement and to have a source of such comfort, health and pleasure, right at our doors, dispensing with the antique wells, now so troublesome, ought to have its influ- Good Suggestion. ence, other reasons failing. But because it has always been taken from wells, there must be no change in the water we shall daily use.

Any man who would successfully iuaugurate a system of water works ability of the city to erect them, the works might be built by a joint stock company. Say that a thousand persons would take the water, paying an average rate of $10 per annum, and it is seen what an income would thus be derived to pay the expenses, interest on pay liberally for the use of the water. This idea is thrown out for the earnest who can surely find some way way out of the difficulty and danger.

The subordination of civil power to bayonet rule during the satrapy of Grant was scathingly The disgraceful conduct of the cabinet, which made their names a by-word among the nations, was happily commented on. An instance of the degeneracy of the Republican offipraise is given one for doing that which is his clear duty. To prove this, the case of Hayes in restoring Louisiana and South Carolina to their rights, was cited.

In the course of his remarks, the speaker vigorously denounced Independents in the State, and warned his auditors that to sustain these but had the effect of demoralizing and defeating the Democratic party.

The address was lucid and pungeut and couched in language which well entitles the talented gentleman to the highest oratorical honors.

The Peabody Fund.

The State Superintendent of Public Instruction, J. C. Scarborough, Esq., bas received from Dr. Scars, the Agent of the Peabody Fund, $1200 more. Of this $1000 is for the use of Raleigh; $600 for the white graded school, and $400 for two colored graded schools. The white schools get $400 less than last year, while the colored schools get $100 less. The two hundred dollars remaining is for the Fayetteville schools, being $:50 less than the amount allowed them last term. Dr. Sears writes the Superin endent that the reason of the decrease is a fall ing off of 40 per cent in the income of the fund, He states that he is greatly pressed for means, and that the allow ance to North Carolina this year will not exceed $3,500, including Normal schools, which last year were given $500 each. He says the University at Chanel Hill ought to be a'lowed $500, as usual. These statements are rather discouraging in view of the fact that for some years the allowances to North Carolina have steadily diminished in amount. The efforts made to improve the schools by the present administration have been so vigorous and so earnest that it seems pard that this needed support should be thus withdrawn. The lack of aid from this source is of course felt. All possible support is needed, particularly just at this time, when the work of education is progressing so rapidly, and the cause should not be suffered to languish for want of means.

Complimentary Entertainment. The D. D. I. Social C.ub, of this city, gave, Tuesday evening, at the residence of the Rev. W. S. Black, a social entertainment, complimentory to the Raleigh

Independent Ring. The occasion was one of rare enjoyment. The spacious grounds in front of the parsonage were brilliantly illuminated, and through its walks, in every direction, moved a merry throng of promenaders, whose joyous peals of laughter, ringing out on the clear night air, plainly indicated that all were drinking deeply of pleasure's sparkling

At the tap of a bell, the happy crowd gathered around the numerous tables that dotted the grounds, and were speedily served with all the delicacies of the season. And, while refreshments were being administered, the voices of a corps of cultivated singers, accompanied by the sweet strains of a large parlor organ, added yet increased pleasure to the already delighted guests.

The D. D. I's know well how to get up an evening's entertainment, and their guests were loath to leave even old masters. The room is hung with stamped leather, exquisitely designed The patterns of the lambrequies and curtains of the recessed windows are ornate. The great height of the apartments as well as their size, requires the use of large furniture. The car-pet on the floor of the parlor is the finest ever seen here. A visit to these palatial apartments, now nearly ready for occupancy will prove pleasant to the transient visitor.

Surest Tranquilizer of the Nerves. The surest tranquil'zer of the nerves is a medicine which remedes their supersensitiveness by invigorating them. Over-tension of the nerves always weakens them. What they need, the place is a tonic, not a sedative. The latter is only useful when there is intense mental excitement and an immediate necessity exists for producing quietude of the brain. Hotetter's stomach Bitters restores tranquility of the nerves by endowing them with the vigor requisite to bear, without being are dor disturbed unhealthfully, the ordinary impressions produced through the media of sight, hearing and reflection. Nay, it does more than this tenables them to sustain a degree of tension from mental application which they would be totally unable to endure without its assistance. Such at least is the irresistible conclusion to be drawn from the test mony of business and professional men, little atents, clergymen, and others who have tested the fortifying and reparative influence of this celebrated tonic and nervinc.
